

International

Cybersecurity >>>

Forum
>>>>

FIC 2021

GDPR REQUIREMENTS

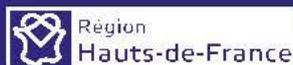

8th, 9th, 10th
JUNE 2021

LILLE >>>>
GRAND PALAIS

ORGANISED BY

WITH THE SUPPORT OF

FORUM-FIC.COM

GDPR The purpose of this page is to inform you about the use and procedures in place within the organization of the International Cybersecurity Forum regarding the protection of your personal data in accordance with the European Union's General Data Protection Regulation or "GDPR" of April 27, 2016 (No. 2016/679).

Our Data Protection Officer (DPO-CEIS@ceis.eu) ensures that data subjects are informed of their rights and can explicitly consent to these data processings and their purposes. This Policy is specific to the organization of the International Cybersecurity Forum and its events and only concerns the activities for which the Organizer is a Data Controller within the meaning of the GDPR.

TYPE OF PERSONAL DATA COLLECTED AND RETENTION PERIOD

We collect the data that you send us specifically for each purpose, as well as data strictly related to your Internet browsing (cookies) such as:

- Identifying data (name, surname, function, company, telephone, professional email) in order to proceed to any registration (newsletters, publications) at your request (the legal basis being your consent, presumed in the framework of a BtoB use);*
- Professional data allowing you to register for our various events and sessions (name, surname, function, company, telephone, email, official identity document needed by legal obligation, etc.) in order to facilitate your access and to allow you to receive information necessary for your participation (the legal basis being your consent). This also includes registrations for various workshops, symposia, contests, challenges, round tables, etc. organized within the Forum and related events. We will use this information to invite you to future events that we or some of our partners will organize on similar topics;*

More details about the communication of your professional data during the FIC :

- By accepting a request for contact and / or a request for appointment via the Swapcard FIC 2020 platform, you agree that the information entered while registering (first name, last name, company, job title, professional telephone number, professional email address) may be communicated to the person or company who requested the appointment.*
- By participating in roundtables, conferences, FIC Talks, technical demonstrations and masterclasses, you agree to be contacted, including for commercial purposes, by the partner companies of each session, responsible for processing*

- By accepting to have your badge scanned on an Exhibitor's stand, you agree that the information entered while registering (first name, last name, company, job title, professional telephone number, professional email address, address, centers of interest, social networks) is communicated to the Exhibitor, responsible for processing.
- By picking up a free coffee / juice / waffle on the distribution points on the show (stand or delivery tricycle), you agree to be contacted including for commercial purposes, by the companies sponsoring these offers.
- By depositing your business cards / CVs on exhibitors' booths or by handing them over to persons met during FIC, you consent to a professional relationship with these third parties.

It is therefore possible that you are contacted by the recipients of your personal data (exhibitor, people met, corporate partners) following FIC. If you do not wish to receive communications, all you need is to tell them directly, on this occasion or later.

Depending on the localities in which the events will take place and the attended personalities, specific security procedures will be set up and the official data and documents allowing the verification of your identity (identity card, etc.) and the control of access are then required. The legal basis of treatment being your legitimate interest, or even in some particular cases, the existence of a legal obligation; These data are kept for a period of three years after the last contact we had with you. Et quia Mesopotamiae tractus omnes crebro inquietari sueti praetenturis et stationibus servabantur agrariis, laevorsum flexo itinere

CONFIDENTIALITY AND SECURITY MEASURES

We take all reasonable measures (physical, logical, organizational) to protect your data at the time of their transmission on the service, in particular against loss, misuse, unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration or destruction, via security measures such as the detection of vulnerabilities, the deployment of the HTTPS protocol, the setting up of pseudonymization and anonymization processes etc. However, this does not allow us to guarantee the security of the information you send us. Depending on the type of the collected data and their purposes, the processing is carried out only by authorized personnel in accordance with our requirements of confidentiality and security, in the constitution of files, exchanges with our partners and subcontractors, and transfer of these data (see below).

RECIPIENTS OF THE DATA

The personal information that you may provide can be consulted by the personnel of our company, as well as all the group's subsidiaries, the departments in charge of control and our subcontractors within the strict framework of the purposes we have presented to you. We specify that we have subscribed with our sub-contractors strict security clauses, in conformity with article 28 of the GDPR, identifying in particular the objectives of security to be reached. We may also communicate your business data to : The persons in charge of the localities hosting the events, insofar as they would not be considered as subcontractors or as organizing partners. As indicated above, these managers may also be recipients of your identity verification data in accordance with their own Privacy Policy which they will make available to you.

The partners who finance, within the FIC or related events, symposia, workshops, competitions, challenges, round tables, etc. where you are registered. The use of your data, whether commercial or not, operates in accordance of their own Privacy Policy which they will make available to you. During the ICF, you may communicate your professional contact details during your visit to the stands and exhibitors. Then you may be contacted by the exhibitor in question, who acts as the data controller. If you do not wish to receive any communication from him, you simply have to inform him directly, on this occasion or later.

We also indicate that in the case of using social modules or your Facebook or LinkedIn account, the social network in question may have access to some of the information. Finally, we may be required to disclose personal information on request of any Public Authority in the context of a compulsory legal procedure, or in the event of a proven risk that could affect our information system, having an impact on our activities or the conduct thereof, or the fundamental rights of third parties concerned.

INTERNATIONAL DATA TRANSFER

We may transfer your personal data to partners/subcontractors outside the European Economic Area (EEA). In this case, be assured that they are subject to specific rules and measures to ensure the appropriate level of security for the protection of your personal data. This means that we will base our transfers on the basis of the applicable regulations (standard contractual clauses approved by the European Commission in our contracts with third parties outside the EEA, transfer to countries with protection recognized as adequate by the European Commission, etc.). For more information, please contact our Data Protection Officer at DPO-CEIS@ceis.eu.

SHARE SOCIAL NETWORKS WHERE YOU HAVE AN ACCOUNT

We have planned for you the ability to easily share the pages you visit on your favorite social networks. The use of buttons to access social networks is indeed likely to lead to the collection and exchange of certain data between social networks and group sites. Our sites use "plug-ins" or social modules on its various pages (buttons "share" of social networks such as Facebook, Twitter, Google+, LinkedIn and Viadeo, ...). When you visit a page of one of our sites containing such social modules, a connection is automatically established with the servers of social networks (Facebook, Twitter ...) who can then be informed you have accessed the corresponding page of our site. If you wish to limit the information published or known by these social networks, we advise you to disconnect before visiting our site. In addition, it is your responsibility to make the appropriate settings concerning the access to your personal data on these social networks and to be informed about their Privacy Policy.

RIGHTS OF ACCESS, RECTIFICATION AND DELETION

We remind you that you have the right:

- To be informed about how your data is processed;
- To access your data;
- To oppose for legitimate reasons that your data be processed and in particular that your data be used for commercial prospecting purposes;
- To limit certain uses of your data;
- To correct your personal information, as well as asking us to delete certain information;
- To challenge the way your personal data is processed;
- To withdraw your consent at any time (in cases where we rely on your consent);
- To define guidelines regarding the fate of your personal data after your death, pursuant to Article 32 of the Law of 6 January 1978.

CONTACT US

The protection of personal data is a fundamental right, and you can always contact our Data Protection Officer at the following address DPO-CEIS@ceis.eu to exercise your rights. However, we reserve the right to ask you to justify your identity and the relevance of your request.

If, despite our response, you were not satisfied, you have the possibility to contact the CNIL directly at the following address <https://www.cnil.fr/en/contact-cnil>.

FORUM-FIC.COM

